THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

Homecoming: PAULA WINTERS, the talkative former local car-hop and what-not, seen one night this week at The Colonial, with an unidentified escort.

Unsolicited testimonial: Officer DEAN WOOD, chauffeur of the DC ambulance, on arriving at the scene last week in time to squelch a would-be local suicide, was greeted with these words: "I didn't want you to come. You never let anybody die."

RICHARD R. LIBERTY, keeper of the legal ledgers (more simply: clerk), made it to work at the muni court promptly if not over-eagerly Tuesday morning.

Baggy eyed and tattered, he had been waiting out the arrival of a daughter at St. Francis hospital.

Mrs. Liberty gave birth to the baby at 2 a.m.

This makes two for the Liberties (they've got a five-year-old boy, CHRISTOPHER), who lives at 169 Bepler street, D.C.

No name for the new young-un at this writing, however, or did the clerk just forget it in his drowsiness.

Brotherhood: The Rev. J. LOVELL COEY, Broadmoor Nazarene church pastor, seen last weekend helping the Rev. ROY MILAM unload lumber at the site of Milam's new Westlake Baptist church.

And did you see DON MOSSI, much-heralded Daly City baseball competitor of yore, chucking the pellet on TV Saturday for the Cleveland Indians?

The Tribe lost (through no fault of Mossi, who threw a lot of stuff at the Chicago Whitesox) but anyway the picture was good.

Pardon us, your honor, but VIC JOHNSON, tamale vendor in Westlake, remembers when JOE VERDUCCI used to be bat boy for the ball club he played on back in high school days.

From picking up the sticks to rapping down the gavel ... a short history of a local boy that made good.

We heard it too: FRANK MICHELETTI, Colma postman who's seen duty there 20 years, was promised the job of assistant DC postmaster, just last week.

So where is he now? Transferred to Hunters point.

He's a registered Democrat, but of course there's no politics involved, we're told.

Sootily not.

OFFICIALS WITNESS CEREMONY

San Francisco postmaster, John A. Fixa, assured the people of Daly City that there would be no let down in postal services during the transition period to an independent post office, as he officially handed Postmaster Vincent Murphy the key to the Daly City post-office.

Congressman Arthur J. Younger, city and county officials, and local dignitaries were on hand to greet the new postmaster and participate in the formal dedication yesterday (Thursday).

"I am proud and happy that I could recommend Vincent Murphy, a veteran and man with 18 years of distinguished service as postmaster of Daly City," Younger stated.

Postmaster Fixa expressed his thanks to all the people for the splendid cooperation given his office in the past, and expressed confidence in the new appointee.

Mayor Joe Verducci, in paying tribute to the people and organizations responsible for acquiring the independent post office, stated that now Daly City would have its own identity. "We are becoming a bigger and better city," he said.

Verducci commended the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, Congressman Younger, and Councilman Michael De Bernardi, whose efforts led to establishment of the independent station.

Jack Kendree, a member of the board of directors of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, was master of ceremonies.

Among the notables present were: County Supervisors Tom Callan Sr., Alvin Hatch, Martin Poss, Ed McDonald, William Werder, Daly City Councilmen Edward Dennis, Sanford Vickers, Del Wilson, and De Bernardi.

OLPH TO FORM BOY SCOUT TROOP HERE ON TUESDAY

Father Norman Allen, Pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, today issued invitations to boys and their fathers interested in joining a new Boy Scout Troop being formed by the church to attend a meeting with representatives of the San Francisco Area Council in the school cafeteria Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Boys should be between the ages of 11 and 15 and must be accompanied by their fathers. The new Boy Scout Troop will be known as Troop 243, and will work closely with the church's Cub Pack 243. A Scoutmaster will be chosen and a Troop committee formed from among the fathers of the interested boys, with Troop meetings scheduled to start immediately.

Verducci Heads City

A crowd in excess of 150 persons jammed the city hall to standing room only Tuesday night as Joseph Verducci was installed as mayor of Daly City and three new councilmen took the oath of office.

Del Wilson, Sanford Vickers and Michael De Bernardi formally took over council positions, replacing Paul Green, Anthony Gaggero and James Kennedy.

Verducci, popular sports personality and athletic director at San Francisco State college, assumes the mayoralty formerly held by Gaggero.

Verducci, delivering his inaugural address, said, "We have a tremendous job before us but I believe the new council can work harmoniously for a better Daly City."

Verducci pointed to the fact that the new council would encourage more attendance at the public meetings and would make every effort to keep the people informed of city transactions.

As part of the new policy, routine business matters at public meetings will be held up until members of the audience have an opportunity to voice their opinions or complaints. Prior to this, persons attending the public meetings had to wait an hour or two for transacting of regular legislative business.

The councilmen-elect and remaining councilman Edward J. Dennis all delivered short messages to the crowd, expressing optimism for the new Daly City regime.

Departing councilmen also spoke, voicing their pleasure at having had the opportunity to serve Daly City over the past years.

Daly City's new chief executive resides at 118 Wilshire boulevard in the Westlake subdivision.

He lives there with his wife, Florence, and three children, Florence Joan, 14, Diane, 12, and Jerry, 4.

Verducci, a University of California graduate, has been a member of the athletic department faculty at San Francisco State college since 1950. He is now head of the department as well as head football coach. Prior to taking over duties at San Francisco, Verducci coached at St. Mary's college and at Polytechnic High school.

He was elected to the council two years ago.

Verducci was informally named as mayor by the new council at a gathering held Friday night.

The first regular session of the new council will be held Monday in the council chambers, beginning at 8 p.m.

A definite statement of policy on major issues is expected to be revealed at that time.

RUNNING OK SAYS MURPHY

After nearly 50 years operation as a branch of the San Francisco postal system, the machinery turning Daly City into an independent office was set in motion Tuesday with gratifying results, according to new Postmaster Vincent Murphy.

The change-over was made Tuesday without impairing delivery or pick-up in Daly City, Murphy said.

Immediate effect of the transition, however, cut six carriers from the Daly City ranks. Starting Tuesday 19 postmen were delivering mail locally, as compared with the former figure of 25. The others were transferred to Stonestown, Murphy said, because the bulk of their routes were in the Leland R. Toms, superintendent of the Daly City station for the past 9½ years, will take charge of the Richmond district station, it was learned yesterday.

At present Toms is remaining at the Daly City office in an advisory capacity, where he will stay until May 1. Toms is aiding in the switch-over making Daly City an independent office.

In his new Richmond district job, Toms will receive the same salary, $5114, as he had earned in his Daly City job.

His position at the Richmond station will be as acting executive, until further notice from the postal department.

San Francisco corporate limits.

Increase Clerks

Six persons remained to man the office as clerks, but this staff will be increased to 16 with the arrival of new equipment for the now independent station. Equipment awaited is a cancellation machine and cases for distribution of mail.

The added personnel inside the office will be made necessary by the increase in work brought about by the switch. Up to now, the Rincon Annex office in San Francisco has been handling cancellation and distribution of mail. Equipment is scheduled to arrive any day now and with its arrival these duties will be taken over by the Daly City office.

No Hours Change

Murphy said the establishment of the independent office has not changed any hours for pickup and delivery of mail, but eventually will result in faster, more efficient

AUTO ACTIVITY GIVES DC COPS BUSY SCHEDULE

Three attacks on automobiles parked in a service station and two used car lots were reported this week in what appeared to be a rash of unrelated criminal acts involving automobiles.

Frank Imperatrice, used car dealer, reported that sometime between 9:30 a.m., April 16, and 8 a.m., April 17, some unknown person or persons removed a rear bumper assembly, accessories, a battery and a license, (No. 7B73913), from a 1939 Chevrolet, and a hub cap from a 1953 Kaiser.

Imperatrice, whose lot is located at 7096 Mission street, stated that during the past six months approximately $50 worth of batteries have been stolen from his lot.

In the other theft, reported April 20, Allen Pettigrew, owner of the Mohawk service station, 6755 Mission street, stated that someone had stolen an eight cylinder motor from a 1941 Buick Roadmaster frame as it sat on the southeast corner of his service station lot.

The theft was discovered by Officer Brohman who reported that everything appeared in order when he passed the station at 10 p.m., April 19, but that when he passed the station again, at 10:15 p.m., the Buick coupe, which had been parked in front of the missing motor, had been moved and parked across the sidewalk.

Brohman discovered an oil spill, when he investigated the site, and followed it south on Mission street to Westlake avenue. Down Westlake avenue to Miriam street, where the culprits turned north on Parkview and continued down Parkview to San Diego avenue. The trail continued down San Diego to Los Banos where it disappeared.

The coupe was checked for latent prints by the police and a description of the motor number 73928793, painted red, blue and gold, was issued. According to the police report the motor has two Edmonds intake manifolds attached and is equipped with twin carburetors.

Malicious mischief was reported by Hans Iverson, San Francisco.

Public Schools Week

Public schools week schedules have been formulated to aid parents in the observance of class room activities in the Jefferson Elementary school district.

During the week, April 26 to 30, the classes will invite the parents to attend class room sessions and see and hear their children at work. Displays will also be set up to illustrate the instruction program and give samples of each student's work.

LAW HALTS TOUR OF TWO TEEN-AGERS

Two Broadmoor teen-agers, prompted by a declining grade average in their classes at Colma school, took off on a jaunt of the world Tuesday but their travels were cut short in the hills behind Sweetwood drive.

The girls, both 13, had just received their report cards on Wednesday and their marks, evidently, left much to be desired.

In bona fide hobo style, the girls packed enough candy and food for one day in a blanket and started making tracks for the wide open spaces.

Broadmoor police were called by the girls' parents that evening, after noticing their absence.

Driving only a few blocks, the officers found the two girls huddled in the trees behind Sweetwood. They had been attempting to build a cave for shelter.

Amid an atmosphere of copious tears and regrets, the girls were escorted home, to be dealt with by measures prescribed by their parents.

Police Sergeant Rescues Local Man From Burning Home

Police Sergeant August Benassini is credited today with saving the life of Eugene Lippert, 137 Alexander avenue, early Monday morning.

Benassini crawled, on his hands and knees, into the Lippert home as the blaze engulfed the entire front of the residence, and succeeded in awakening the sleeping Lippert.

The fire was discovered by Avis Lippert, six year old daughter of the rescued man. The girl awakened her mother who investigated and found the front room in flames.

Mrs. Lippert, with Avis and 16 year old Raymond Lippert, left the house with a few valuables, believing that Lippert had already fled the burning home.

Benassini heard the fire alarm and raced to the scene in the police patrol car and found Mrs. Lippert and her children huddled in the back yard. Mrs. Lippert told the sergeant that her husband was in the house and Benassini, on his hands and knees to avoid the smoke, entered the burning structure and awoke the still sleeping Lippert.

Frank Specht, 64 Guadalupe street, a Daly City fireman was treated for smoke inhalation at the Junipero Serra hospital and released.

Official estimate of the damage done to the Lippert home is $1500. Lippert stated that while the structure itself was insured, the furnishings were not covered by insurance.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy stated that the blaze apparently started when a cigarette accidentally fell on the Lippert's chestfield and caught fire after the family had gone to bed.

Jeff High School To Hold Open House

"Go to high school again," is a fitting slogan for the evening of Friday, April 30, in observance of Public Schools Week, according to Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High school district. Open house will be held at 7:45 p.m.

With copies of their children's class programs, parents will be able to visit each class that the boys and girls attend. The periods will be twelve minutes long, during which instructors will explain the courses, their purposes and their methods. The teachers will also be happy to answer any questions, Hannah added.

Some classes will hold demonstrations and exhibits. A concert, presented by the high school band and a demonstration by the modern dance class will be held at 7:45 p.m.

BOOKLET ON LAW RELEASED BY THE RECORD

"Law In Action," a newspaper feature dealing with the subject of law and government in language of the layman, has been printed in THE RECORD each Thursday for the past several months.

The articles have been prepared by distinguished members of the Bar, with the approval of the local and state bar associations.

So popular has the feature become with readers that THE RECORD has arranged to have the first 26 articles of the series reprinted in booklet form, and these are now available for free distribution at the RECORD office on a first come, first served basis, so long as the limited supply may last.

Hot School Board Race Seen

With a record number of candidates already established Tuesday, four last-minute candidates filed for the Jefferson Elementary School district Wednesday a few hours before deadline to bring the slate to 14.

This is the largest number of candidates ever to run for trustee positions on the local school board and is the highest number of candidates running in all school districts of the county. Andrew Van der Werff, a member of the board for eight years, did not file for reelection.

Filing for the Jefferson High School district board of trustees closed simultaneously Wednesday with four persons making their bids for jobs. Incumbents running will be Raymond T. Whitney of Pedro Valley and Chairman Lyal Ingersoll of Daly City.

Down-to-the-wire entries for the elementary school board were Cecil Mitchell, 1775 Sweetwood drive, and three residents of the Westlake subdivision, Starr Dunham, 80 Cliffside drive; Casimir "Cass" Norton, 44 Parkwood drive; and Joseph Toboni Jr., 1 Parkwood drive. This trio will run as a team.

Filed Earlier
Those who had filed earlier were: Mrs. Katherine Mullen, 704 Stoneyford drive; Roy Arneson, 202 88th street; Harold R. Brown, 464 C street; Guido de Ghetaldi, 316 Northgate drive; Dr. C. Henry Kempe, 65 Fairway drive; Henry Kraus, 1745 Louvaine drive; Francis Gates, 299 Woodrow st.; Kevin Eppendino, 487 Woodrow st.; Joseph Lewkowitz, 591 Vista Grande avenue; and D. C. Gensel, 237 Abbott street.

League Creates Interest
The large number of candidates for the elementary board was attributed partly to interest created by the League for Better Schools, a newly-formed group devoted to encouraging qualified persons to run for trusteeship. The League had recommended six of the candidates, Mrs. Mullen, Arneson, Brown, de Ghetaldi, Kempe and Kraus, as qualified to run for the board.

The League, however, has probably indirectly been the cause of some of the other candidates filing, since resentment was created against the League by persons who believed they had been treated unfairly.

People Get Choice
Thomas Jenkins, president of the League, said today that "I am happy to see a great number of people running. Some of the people have animosity toward our group. We have tried to avoid this, but believe we have accomplished our purpose in encouraging a large roster of qualified persons to enter the race."

In the high school district, the four candidates will be competing for two three-year terms.

There are three positions open on the elementary board. One of these is the three-year regular position, which is being vacated by Van Der Werff. The other two posts were brought about by a state ruling which requires all school boards to have five members, two more than the district has had.

Nine of the elementary school board candidates are running for the additional positions. Candidate in this category receiving the highest number of votes will win a two-year term, while the runner-up will be in for a period of one year.

Police Commission Accepts New Broadmoor Vehicle

PRESENTING KEYS for new Broadmoor police interceptor car is Lee Neville of Neville Motors, while Broadmoor police commissioner Joseph Belli Jr., officially accepts them. The new 160-horse power vehicle is equipped with a control box designed by reserve Broadmoor officer

Maurice Ray. The box makes it possible to operate all controls, such as shot gun release, siren, lights, from one convenient set of switches located near the steering wheel. The car, equipped with Mercury block and motor, is believed to be one of the most modern police vehicles in the service. He pointed out that when the new system reaches maximum efficiency mail will be dispatched and delivered faster.

Air mail service is expected to be facilitated as soon as the switch-over is completed. At present air mail is still being delivered from the airport near San Bruno to San Francisco, where it is then relayed to Daly City. When equipment and space are adequate to handle the air mail, it will be delivered direct to Daly City from the airport, thus saving "at least several hours" in delivery time, Murphy estimated.

One Delivery
Mail will continue to be delivered once daily in urban areas for an indefinite time but Murphy said there is a chance later on that delivery will be twice daily in the business districts.

In the Colma area, where there is a separate branch, "service now is as good or better than prior to the change-over," Murphy indicated. He said no carriers were working out of the Colma office, but that eight men were being dispatched out of the Daly City office to deliver in the Colma-Broadmoor-Garden Village sections.

Three persons remain on the clerking staff of the Colma office. Acting supervisor of the branch office there is William McGovern, formerly of the San Francisco system.

Same Colma Hours
Hours that the Colma branch is open remain the same, Murphy said, while there is one change in hours at the Daly City office. The Daly City building will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. as usual, out money order transactions will be stopped at 5 p.m., instead of 5:30, as was the practice previously. Since the office is independent, the 5 o'clock hour set by the post office department must be carried out here. There will be no change in hours for handling money orders in Colma, since it is a branch station. The change in hours for money order business in Daly City will take effect May 1.

Situation at the Crown Drug Store in Westlake, a contract station, remains at the status quo.

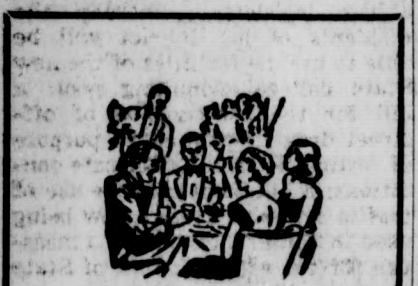

There have been no plans for moving the Daly City office to a new building. However, Murphy added that the present structure would probably be remodeled to take care of the increase in work there.

The remodeling will be done by the federal post office department.

Booklet On Law Is Released

Several hundred copies of the booklet also have been requested by the Jefferson school districts for use in classes in social studies and civics.

A second volume of "Law In Action" will be released by this newspaper early next summer, following completion in this newspaper of the publication of the second series of weekly articles, now being printed.

when someone scaled the fence surrounding the Northern California Motors lot, next to 6601 Mission street, and broke the windows on two cars.

Iverson stated that the culprits, believed by the police to have been children, broke the windshield and left front window of a Nash and pulled the wires loose from the radio speaker on the same car. Also broken with the 2" x 4" x 12" piece of board employed by the culprits, was the left rear window of a 1938 model Chevrolet.

Nothing was stolen from the lot. One other case involving a vehicle was handled by the local police this week. A brand new Pontiac, stolen from the Boas Pontiac dealers in San Francisco, was recovered by Officer Lenhares of the local force.

The car was located at 22 Los Olivos avenue when Linhares responded to a complaint of a car blocking the driveway at that address.

Boas Pontiac dealers reported the car and 18 sets of keys to new cars missing at 1 p.m. on April 20.

mediately following the selection of the men.

Lake Merced District Executive Maurice Powers has been invited to attend Tuesday evening's meeting to explain organizational procedures, Father Allen said. The new Troop will bring to four the number of Boy Scout groups in Daly City, including Troop 249 which meets at Holyeue hall; a new Troop 63 now being sponsored by the Daly City VFW, and the Westlake Property Owners' association's Troop 248.

In addition to the groups for older boys, Packs 62, 63, 241, and 242 are carrying out the Cub Scout program for boys 8 through 10, with nearly 200 younger members, Powers reports.

Excessive speed was the principal cause of traffic accidents in 1953.

Three out of four traffic accidents involve passenger cars.

Linhares identified the car, valued at $3600, through the San Francisco police at 3:30 p.m., April 20.

Jeff High School To Hold Open House

Parents, teachers, and visitors were so enthusiastic about the program used last year, that the committee decided to use the same type plan again.

Adults who have no children in school are invited to attend. They will be given suitable assistance and will have an opportunity to see the school, visit classes and learn much about the work done at the high school.

Superintendent Hannah invited all adults to attend.

In 1953, 2,140,000 Americans were injured in traffic accidents. Last year's traffic toll of deaths and injuries was the heaviest in history.

No, a much simpler and historic method is used.

They throw rocks at the window.

A week ago Monday a tree fell on eight-year-old ROBERT RANKIN, son of MR. and MRS. ROBERT F. RANKIN, 215 Willis street.

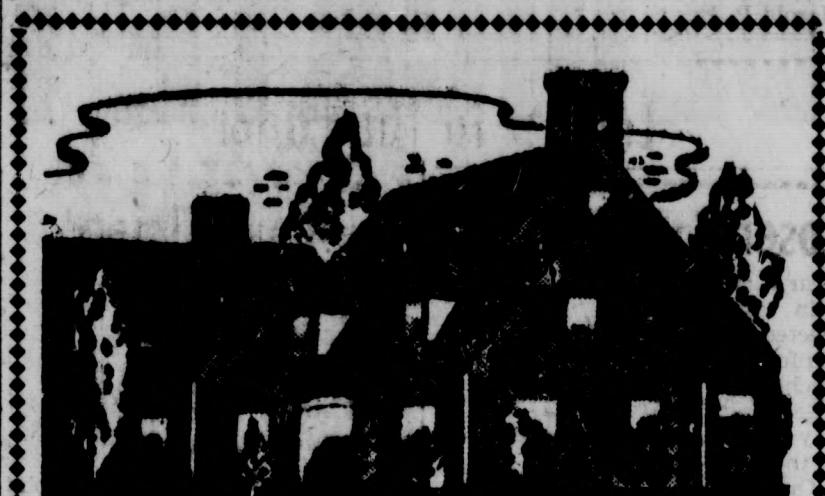

Tuesday morning at St. Francis hospital Mrs. Rankin gave birth to a 11-pound baby boy, EDWARD.

DONALD RANKIN, with Dr. IVAN BUDAEFF of this city attending.

Mr. Rankin about this time must be wondering who it was the tree fell on, but the whole family, including the new arrival and six-year-old daughter, KATHLEEN RUTH, are hale and hearty . . . so he's happy.

It's all in a week of wedded bliss.

Saturday is the most dangerous day of the week in traffic.

Letters To The Editor

Loser Congratulates New Councilmen

Dear Sir:

In congratulating the newly elected councilmen of Daly City, Sanford Vickers, Del Wilson and Michael De Bernardi, I would also congratulate the people of our city who realized the importance of the civic trust placed in them.

Our new councilmen are men of courage, vigor and foresight, who have set their goals high and have the fortitude necessary to attain these objectives. The task before them is an awesome chore, the critics will be many in number and the demands upon their endurance will seem most times unbearable. We must all lay aside the armor of the recent political foray and equip ourselves for the job ahead. I personally will ask for more than my share of the labor to make every campaign promise of the new councilmen a reality.

In closing I would like to thank all of my friends who gave so freely of their time in support of my initial campaign for public office. My thanks also to the newspapers which by impartial reporting and by generous allotment of space made my views known to the electorate. To the many who cast their vote for me, my heart-felt gratitude, the response far exceeded all expectations.

Yours Respectfully,
Owen D. English

Walkers Score Maiming Of Pet Turtle

Dear Sirs:

To the parents and children of Edgewood Terrace:

During the past Easter school vacation children of this area for something exciting to do, armed with sticks and rocks, deliberately and maliciously mutilated a pet turtle in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker at 101 E. Vista avenue. Neighbors tried to run the children off but evidently they didn't know what discipline means and refused and, finally when they were tired, left, leaving the turtle on his back, which means sure death to such a creature.

I would just like the parents and children to know they certainly succeeded in hurting and badly maiming this turtle. The children are known to the owners of this turtle. Any further damage done to anything inside the property of this home by any children will be taken care of by law.

Reader Urges Home Security For Youth

Dear Sir:

Dope and call girl activities have jolted many parents to take a better perspective of their responsibilities. A major cause of juvenile delinquency is a broken home, including a home where the mother is at work when the child comes from school.

Twenty-three P.W.'s have stressed that individual character development is the objective of true education. Fascist and Communist countries teach their children to obey and follow the leader like so many cattle. In adolescence these same children follow the crowd influence for the latest fad in dress or compulsion behavior.

Free sample, "cigarette with a kick" appeal is the old game. No one succumbs to this who has not started with social drinking. "Three definite steps in the juvenile problem: alcohol, then marijuana, and then the third and final step, one of the opiates—usually heroin which is the prevailing drug throughout the country today from a definite addiction standpoint . . . drug traffic and drug addiction go hand in hand with crime in general."—Walter R. Creighton, chief, Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement, Dept. of Justice, Calif.

In short:

1. Home Security.
2. Character individuality in education.
3. Temperance pledges from preschool up.

Yours,
R. P. Young, M.D.

Safety News From Your Local Police

HIGHWAY CREEPER-UPPERS

The "creeper jeepers" will get you if you don't watch out. Many motorists who are not giving full attention to their driving have been caught unawares in high-speed zones on open highways by assuming that the motor vehicle in front is keeping pace with them. When you are doing 40 and the motor car ahead is doing 35, a miscalculation may only result in a screech of brakes and perhaps a harmless floss. At 70 it can mean a fatal crash.

Slow Down At Blind Corners

Almost everyone has had the experience of walking hurriedly past or around the corner of a building and bumping into another person. Such pedestrian collisions are generally passed off with apologies. But when a motorist in a hurry drives fast past or around a blind corner, the result is often a serious or fatal collision that apologies can't rectify.

Changing Lanes

When you move from one lane to another in the stream of traffic, signal deliberately, move over deliberately, give other drivers fair warning of what you are about to do, what you are doing.

By using a little care you will avoid a collision.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

April 29 is the first of four performances by the San Francisco Ballet Company. Although opening right is less than a week away, there is still sufficient time to hurry down to the Sherman-Clay box office and take advantage of this company's unprecedented offer of a full evening of ballet for one dollar, less than the price of many movies. The season includes two of Low Christensen's new productions, which will permit the audience to share in the excitement of two world premieres, and also includes guest stars of the magnitude of Marcia Tallechief and Andre Eglevsky, who will dance either "Swan Lake" or a major "Pas de Deux" at each performance.

Miss Tallechief and Mr. Eglevsky are coming to San Francisco as part of the national ballet exchange plan instituted between our local company and George Balanchine's New York City Ballet. They are repaying a visit made by Nancy Johnson and Sally Bailey, who last year appeared on the New York Center stage as guest stars for the performance of Low Christensen's "Con Amore," which you will recall was premiered in San Francisco in April of that year.

Further along the line of the exchange project between the two companies, Lincoln Kirstein, general director of the New York City Ballet, is providing a setting by Dorothea Tanning for "The Dryad," one of the two new Christensen ballets to be seen this season. This is in repayment for having borrowed the James Bodrero sets and costumes for "Con Amore."

"The Dryad," set to Schubert's Fantasy in F Minor, and the other Low Christensen premiere, "Heuriger," danced to some of Mozart's German dances and his Les Petits Riens, have been planned as vehicles for our two local ballerinas, Nancy Johnson and Sally Bailey, and for Gordon Paxman, the San Francisco Ballet Company's premier danseur.

Miss Johnson's appearances should be of particular interest to readers of this paper, as she is a resident of Westlake.

Sherman-Clay, Sutter at Kearny, Sutter 1-331 will be happy to give you the full program information, together with price range of tickets. Of course, with the high costs of mounting ballet, not all seats can be sold at only a dollar (real value somewhere around 55c, you know), but there are still a few remaining, so better hurry.

Pvt. Kapor With Engineer Battalion

Pvt. Jack Kapor, 23, son of Mrs. Mary Kapor, 133 San Diego avenue has been assigned to the 61st Engineer battalion, Company C, at Fort Hood, Texas.

Kapor who attended Woodrow Wilson grammar school and Jefferson High school, has been in the service since September. He was first stationed at Fort Ord and for the past two months has been at Fort Hood.

The family moved to Daly City in 1933. John Kapor, Kapor's father, was a member of the local fire department for many years.

DICK HARRISON IS ASSIGNED TO CARRIER DUTY

Richard R. Harrison, 21, of 287 Hillside boulevard, has reported aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge, according to a release from the Fleet Home Town News Center.

Harrison, son of Lt. Commander and Mrs. J. M. Harrison, attended Jefferson high school and Woodrow Wilson grammar school. He enlisted in the Naval Air Force immediately following his graduation from Jefferson in February of 1952.

The transfer aboard the USS Kearsarge followed a period during which Harrison was stationed at the Alameda Naval Air station. He received his boot training in San Diego.

Pair Charged With Drunk And Disorderly Conduct Forfeit Bail

Mrs. Faye Evelyn Mitchell, 29, of 328 San Diego avenue and Paul Revere McManus, 715 Washington street, Colma, forfeited bail Tuesday, when they failed to appear in municipal court.

Mrs. Mitchell and McManus were arrested Thursday night on Duffy's corner on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. They were later released on $50 bail each.

Dick Liberty, court clerk, stated that no bench warrant would be issued for the pair.

Mateo. The nurses are Mrs. Joy O'Leary, South San Francisco, Mrs. L. D. Downing, Burlingame, and Mrs. Ann Greer, South San Francisco. Dedication of the blood bank will take place Sunday, April 25th, at 1:30 p.m. It will be open to the public.

Library News

Winners of the Newberry and Caldecott Awards were announced recently in the offices of Frederic G. Melcher, president of R. R. Bewker Co. and founder of the awards. The Newberry medal, the 33rd annual award for the "most distinguished contribution to American literature for children," was presented to Joseph Krumboltz for "And Now Miguel." The Caldecott medal, the 17th annual award for the "most distinguished picture book for children," went to Ludwig Bemelmans for "Madeline's Rescue."

"And Now Miguel" is a sensitive portrayal of twelve-year-old New Mexican boy's yearning to be considered grown up enough to join the men of his family in taking the sheep to summer pasture in the mountains. His sheep-raising family and their activities come to life with extraordinary reality as Miguel tells his story.

"Madeline's Rescue" concerns the story of the gay boarding school adventures in Paris of little Madeline. The completely delightful tale begins with the dog, Genevieve, rescuing Madeline from the Seine. The richly detailed and lively double spreads, with clear Parisian landmarks, have fine full-color reproductions, and with equally humorous and original two-color sketches and rhymed text, tell a story with ageless appeal.

Peak Circulation

Circulation figures from the Daly City public library reached an all time high in March with a total of 5,983 books, magazines and pamphlets checked out. This figure exceeds that of March of last year by 1,804. An increased book budget, longer hours open, and population growth are all important factors contributing to the large circulation figures.

(NOTE: Effective July, 1953, the Daly City library is open for circulation and reference work Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. This represents an increase of 2 1/2 hours per week as compared with the old schedule.)

Stepping Up
This year we were stepping up in class. There weren't any curtains in the Biltmore Bowl, which is a huge underground nightclub in the basement of the Biltmore Hotel. And Evelyn already had a narrator. What she needed was singers. I alerted various friends and from among them she chose Gene Lawton, a handsome young man who is primarily an actor but who is taking vocal lessons.

Our narrator was Mr. "Louey" Calhern. I had always thought his name was Louis Calhern but the introductions stressed the "Louey" pronunciation. He is a tall, handsome, dignified gentleman who has played in scores of good movies. During dress rehearsal he and I gravitated toward each other, an island of calm in the confusion of some fifty people divided into twelve acts, which Evelyn was busy straightening out and getting organized.

Idle Conversation
Making idle conversation, I remarked that I had especially enjoyed Calhern's performance as Supreme Court Justice Holmes, the film in which he had that classic line to deliver, "Ah, to be eighty again."

Calhern laughed and remarked that he had played the role on stage many times. He seemed bored during rehearsals and smoked innumerable cigarettes, using any handy wine glass on the tables around us as an ash tray.

Came the day of the performance. It was a luncheon affair with a double purpose, to observe brotherhood week and to raise money for a Jewish University in Los Angeles called the University of Judaism.

We were due at the hotel at 12:30 and my singer friend, Gene, came by early to pick me up. He was slated for a key spot, representing a typical American youth on a program that highlighted Italian, Scotch, Israeli, Rumanian, Negro, Polish and other nationalities.

ST. FINN BARR GROUP PLANS WHIST - LUNCHEON

A dessert luncheon and whist party will be held in the St. Finn Barr's auditorium, Hearst avenue and Edna street, April 28, at 12:30 p.m. according to Mrs. Joseph Mouille, chairman.

The affair is being sponsored as a benefit for the St. Finn Barr's school building fund.

Mrs. Joseph Cragle, co-chairman, will assist Mrs. Mouille.

In 1953, 8,600 pedestrians were killed in U. S. traffic accidents.

Ridgely Cummings Reports

BROTHERHOOD
Every year it seems that I get mixed up in the celebration of brotherhood.

Of course I'm solidly for the idea that all races, shades, tints, colors and adherents of the various revealed and unrevealed creeds are all of us brothers and sisters under the skin. This is part of my philosophy that I first heard of when at the age of eleven I was exposed to first year French.

I've been for it ever since but I doubt that I'd do anything concrete about it if it weren't that I number among my friends a pretty ball of dynamite named Evelyn Singer.

She Drafted Me

Miss Singer has three phone numbers and is program director for a dozen assorted organizations. Last year she drafted me to help stage a brotherhood celebration at a Sephardic Temple in the south part of town. After that I used to phone her on those rare occasions when I wanted to make a good impression at an opening night and needed a stylishly dressed companion. Later, however, all three phones have been busy, my tuxedo has been in mothballs and I haven't seen much of Evelyn.

Then one night last month I ran into her by accident and she greeted me like a long-lost brother. She had been looking all over Hollywood for me, she confided. She was counting on me to help with a big shindig for a good cause at the Biltmore Bowl, she informed me. And would I assist in finding talent?

It happens that a great many of my friends are unemployed actors and actresses. Although they are starving and often don't know where next month's apartment rent is coming from, they are incorrigible hams and always welcome a chance to act, even if it is for free at a benefit performance. So it was no trouble at all for me to put Evelyn in touch with them. Both sides thought I was very sweet and doing them a big favor.

Last year I had arranged for an Irish actor, George Patrick Graham, to act as narrator for Evelyn's brotherhood pageant, and for another friend, a musician named Larry Norris, to serve as curtain puller. My own role in that show had been as sound man, spinning the records for the dances and handling the volume on the microphones, a task for which I was ideally equipped by my ignorance of mechanical devices.

Stepping Up

This year we were stepping up in class. There weren't any curtains in the Biltmore Bowl, which is a huge underground nightclub in the basement of the Biltmore Hotel. And Evelyn already had a narrator. What she needed was singers. I alerted various friends and from among them she chose Gene Lawton, a handsome young man who is primarily an actor but who is taking vocal lessons.

Our narrator was Mr. "Louey" Calhern. I had always thought his name was Louis Calhern but the introductions stressed the "Louey" pronunciation. He is a tall, handsome, dignified gentleman who has played in scores of good movies. During dress rehearsal he and I gravitated toward each other, an island of calm in the confusion of some fifty people divided into twelve acts, which Evelyn was busy straightening out and getting organized.

Idle Conversation
Making idle conversation, I remarked that I had especially enjoyed Calhern's performance as Supreme Court Justice Holmes, the film in which he had that classic line to deliver, "Ah, to be eighty again."

Calhern laughed and remarked that he had played the role on stage many times. He seemed bored during rehearsals and smoked innumerable cigarettes, using any handy wine glass on the tables around us as an ash tray.

Came the day of the performance. It was a luncheon affair with a double purpose, to observe brotherhood week and to raise money for a Jewish University in Los Angeles called the University of Judaism.

We were due at the hotel at 12:30 and my singer friend, Gene, came by early to pick me up. He was slated for a key spot, representing a typical American youth on a program that highlighted Italian, Scotch, Israeli, Rumanian, Negro, Polish and other nationalities.

Too High for Gene

Gene's song was "That's What America Means To Me," a very pleasant thing about the shop he worked in, the worker by his side, the right to speak his mind out, the street he lived on, the howdys and the hellos from his friends and so forth. Only hitch was, the song was written in the key of "E," too high for Gene whose natural key was B flat. And our pianist, Gideon May, couldn't sight transpose.

So before the show Gene and I had to dash out to an arranger's house in Laurel Canyon to get the music written down within singing range.

We arrived at the hotel to find 1,400 people in the huge dining room and our large cast getting ready to eat lunch in the dressing rooms one floor below. As stage manager and coordinator I had the call sheet in my pocket. I checked on the performers and found them all present except for the American Indians, who were supposed to open the show.

A Snap Decision

Evelyn and Mr. Calhern were sitting at the speaker's table. I reported to them on the state of operations and Evelyn made a snap decision. We would change the opening. The Boy Scouts who were to be our Indians obviously couldn't get excused from school so she decided to have a shapely young dancer named Leah Lizer open the program.

Calhern made the appropriate changes in his narration and I was delegated to get Miss Lizer ready. This involved getting a record which she would dance to up in the sound room, a booth up near the ceiling on the other side of the dining room, and briefing the light and sound men on the change in cues.

I got lost in the maze of hotel passages but finally reached the booth and returned, only to find we were having problems with the Italian dancers. There were eight of them, 15 and 16 year old girls, and they were to dance a Sicilian Tarantella. Their record had been damaged during rehearsal and now came the problem of getting a new record and getting it up to Carl, the technician who handled that phase of the proceedings.

Worked Out Okay

This worked out okay and then the leader of the Italian group told me her charges were too young to drink coffee and would I get them milk for their lunches. I found the maitre d' and arranged this, meanwhile wondering to myself when I was going to find time to eat. I never did.

After a series of minor emergencies about costumes and makeup which occurred while the speech-making was going on upstairs, and which were satisfactorily coped with or ignored, we opened right on time.

All went swimmingly. The bagpipe player skirted and the lassies did a Highland fling. The Negro baritone, who had been running me ragged insisting on pink lights, got them and did a beautiful job on his spiritual.

I carried some dead birds and a butcher knife up on stage for the Caribbean dancers and the feathers came off in my hands.

Brought Down

Gene brought down the house with his song, Leah did her dance in place of the Indians, little Geri Pace sang "Mama Mia" and her manager, Stewart Nathanson, was pleased because I got the microphone down to the right height for her.

Louis Calhern's rich voice and superb diction boomed out the narration between each act, the Chanonettes, some 18 singers with fine harmony, let forth with "Bring me your tired, your weary," the Statue of Liberty girl found her flashlight in time for her big entrance.

The audience applauded like mad and the show was a hit.

During the performance Evelyn stood near Calhern's lectern and masterminded the proceedings while I guarded the stairs and ushered each act up and down. At various tense moments Evelyn would lean over and whisper some impossible instruction to me. Each time I would nod, disappear for a moment and when I returned give her the "O.K." sign of okay, it's all taken care of.

Lipstick All Over

When it was over and Gene and I were walking back to his car he looked at me and said, "Hey, where did you get the lipstick all over your face?"

I grinned somewhat sheepishly. "Evelyn got excited and kissed me," I explained.

He laughed. "These women are balls of fire so long as they have a man to depend on," he said. "The man doesn't have to do anything. He just has to be there to reassure them. Without him they would blow their little cox.".

Gene's a pretty good singer but I'm beginning to think he's a better psychologist.

Cpl. Robert Lockwood To Return From Overseas

Cpl. Robert Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lockwood, 1053 Brunswick street, Daly City, is returning to the U. S. after serving with the 32nd Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade in England.

Corporal Lockwood, who was a clerk typist in the 39th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion, entered the Army in April 1952 and arrived overseas the following January.

In 1953, 269,360 pedestrians were injured in U. S. traffic accidents.

Henry Davis Opens Drive For Superior Court Post

With San Mateo county municipal elections now out of the way, Henry F. Davis, prominent Peninsula attorney, today opened an active campaign for election to the post of San Mateo County Superior Court Judge, Dept. No. 2.

Davis, who has been active in county Republican affairs since he returned from four years of combat service at the end of World War II, has entered the election lists with the following sponsors:

Floyd E. Guffin of Sharp Park, water district chairman; Rudolph A. Rapsey of San Bruno, city attorney; John J. Fahey Jr. of Menlo Park, attorney; Henry W. Shalbach of San Carlos, attorney; Peter V. Milward of Menlo Park, insurance executive; Howard E. Bedford of San Carlos, truck operator; Norman S. Standlee of Menlo Park, sports figure; Vivian L. Farina of San Carlos, housewife;

Francis W. Jones of Belmont, contractor; Alfred E. Kroepch of South San Francisco, business man; Charles J. Kuchel of San Mateo, business man; Alexander Zugarin of Daly City, business man; Constantine Caridid of Colma, business man; Joseph Mozetti of Brisbane, civic leader; Elizabeth M. Robbins of South San Francisco, secretary; Charles J. Ledwith of South San Francisco, certified public accountant; Thomas J. Heagerty of Millbrae, business man; James H. Martin of San Carlos, former mayor of San Carlos; William Alves of Redwood City, contractor, and James Moudakas of Redwood City, peace officer.

Davis, 35, is a veteran of four years as a deputy in the district attorney's office. After entering the active practice of law in San Mateo county, he became associated with Richard M. Dolwig, state assemblyman, with law offices in Redwood City. He is now associated with John J. Fahey Jr., of Menlo Park, with offices at No. 3 Wellington avenue, Daly City.

Davis has been a resident of San Carlos for the past 14 years. He lives with his wife, Enid and their children, Russ, 13, and Kathleen, 8, in their own home at 666 Knoll drive, San Carlos.

He is a graduate of the Hastings School of Law in San Francisco.

He has been a member of the California and San Mateo County Bar Associations for nearly 10 years.

Meyers Cites Three Assembly Terms In Re-election Bid

Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers, in filing for re-nomination in the June Primary for both party tickets, yesterday cited his three terms in office as representative of the 19th Assembly District. He is seeking re-election for his fourth term as the incumbent Assemblyman.

Meyers has sponsored legislation which regulates automobile driving schools and instructors; enabling legislation to permit annexation of portions of San Mateo county to San Francisco; measures for the benefit of the new State college, which is now in his district; enabling legislation whereby the residents of his district will be able to use the facilities of the new State college swimming pool; a bill for the construction of off-street drag strips, for the purpose of testing hot-rods under safe conditions; a bill to permit the use of traffic scramble system now being used in San Francisco; and a measure for the establishment of State narcotic clinics.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello, Neighbors:

The big event of the week—Easter—has come and gone. How nice everyone looked all in their new finery, especially the little children. The young miss this year went in for frilly nylon dresses and the young gentlemen were very much the picture of their fathers with new suits but the difference there was the string or bow ties sported by the very young. The teen-agers of course outshone themselves and how very nice they did look. I'll bet there was more than one mother of a teen-aged boy who wished she could see her son looking as he did Sunday morning.

April 12th saw Daly City's newest citizen arrive. Fact is his mother and father had just gotten settled in their new home on Theta avenue and gone to bed very tired when he decided that was just the time to put in his appearance. It was 2 a.m. when JOHN EDWARD Brown figured that was the time to arrive. He was born at St. Mary's hospital and checked in at 6 lbs. right on the nose. He is the son of MR. and MRS. GEORGE BOWEN and has an older brother, Bobby, aged three, and a sister, aged one and a half, to welcome him on his arrival home.

We have all seen or read of contest winners and often wondered if they were on the level or not. There is at least one that we are sure of because one of the neighbors was the winner. MRS. SHIRLEY WALKER of East Vista avenue was the winner of the 1st prize of a diamond ring in the diamond counting contest sponsored by Granville Jewelers. The ring is very beautiful being in a platinum setting and no one was more surprised than Shirley when she was informed that she was the winner. Congratulations, Shirley, and more of the same luck in future contests.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

MRS. ELEANOR MUMFORD of Los Banos avenue has a double reason for a celebration Sunday. First of all it is her birthday and secondly her son is making his First Communion at O.L.P.H. church. Naturally Mrs. Mumford will be a very busy lady as well as a very happy one. Congratulations on both events are extended by all the folks.

Heard from my friend FRANK SPECHT of the Daly City Fire Department again this week. They have most of the prizes all lined up for their annual ball. One thing to remember, neighbors, these prizes are not donated. They are bought and paid for by the fire department themselves. There may be a few prizes that will be given but on the most part the fire laddies are responsible for the very beautiful prizes themselves. To name just a few: Their first prize will be a Hotpoint clothes drier, then a Westinghouse mixer and juicer, a Universal sandwich toaster and grill, a G. E. steam iron and many others to the tune of over $500. On top of this we are getting a fine entertainment, a well known dance band, and refreshments. The main thing to remember is that this dance is not only for our enjoyment but for our benefit—these are our firemen and they work for the good of all of us.

A hearty welcome is extended by all the folks to our new neighbors MR. and MRS. HAROLD "CURLEY" ROBERTSON and daughter, SUSIE, aged seven, formerly of Santa Rosa, who have selected Daly City as a good place to live. Curley, as his friends call him, is a bakery flour "peddler" for General Mills, Inc. They are presently residing in an apartment while waiting for their new home to be completed in Westlake.

We all go up the hill most every day and at least once a week many of us go into the Daly City bank. While there we will meet one of the nicest of our neighbors doing her duty in her own quiet way. MRS. ROSE WATSON is the gal at the little table who will take your donation for the Cancer Drive now almost in its final stages. Maybe you wonder just what your donation really does. Here is only a little bit of the answer. In their service program there is a loan closet which consists of sick room equipment for loan to patients without charge, some funds are available for purchase of other equipment that is needed and requested, dressings will be made if necessary, and visiting nurses visits are paid for by the American Cancer Society. The above and much more is available to any cancer patient without financial investigation whatever. The aim of the Cancer Society is threefold: to aid in the support of the research projects, to educate the public in cancer control and to offer limited service to cancer patients.

SERVICEMEN

Firemen Machinist Repairman RICHARD E. NEGHERBON of the U. S. Navy serving aboard the Destroyer U.S.S. Hopewell has really been getting around lately. One of his latest jaunts has taken him to Formosa, Okinawa, Hong Kong, Korea and at latest reports to Sasebo Naval Base in Japan for ship repair. Dick has been gone for a long time now but hopes to be seeing all his friends in June. According to him destroyer duty is one of the best and certainly most interesting. The interesting part is trying to figure out why the ship zigs when she is supposed to zag. The U. S. Marine Corps is still getting many of the boys from our town. The latest to enlist is JIM MINOR of Los Olivos avenue. At the present time he is at the Marine Base at San Diego having been at Camp Mathews for part of his basic training. He writes that it is not so bad and he thinks he'll live for the next two final weeks of training and then he will be home to enjoy a well-earned furlough.

One of the most disappointed servicemen from our town last week was PVT. JAMES J. JAS-TRUMSKE of Fort Ord and the U. S. Army. He had counted on having a weekend pass over the Easter holiday and then to find out at the very last minute that he had pulled K.P. duty—that was almost too much. That is what happens when one is in basic but thankfully for the boy's sake, basic doesn't last forever.

Another of the hometown boys in the U. S. Navy was home for the holidays. Seaman WILLIAM A. BEECHER JR., who is at the present time stationed at Moffett Field was one of the lucky ones to get home. Bill won't be around for too long though as he is slated for destroyer duty as a storekeeper, in the very near future. This is just what he has wanted for a long time. Bill was the one boy who wanted overseas duty when he entered the service twenty months ago and naturally he was the only one of a bunch who went in the service at the same time who was stationed near home. Good luck, Bill, and the best wishes of the neighbors go with you on your destroyer.

Saw PFC. BILL "BUMPSIE" BRANDT of Knowles avenue and the Marines home last week. Bumpsie has his right hand in a cast and when asked what happened he just laughed. Wonder what the other guy looks like? Bumpsie looks fine and the Marine life seems to agree with him, but good.

NEWS AND VIEWS

MRS. LYNN BOSKEY is still hard at work in behalf of her pet project—THE CITY OF HOPE HOSPITAL. This hospital which battles mankind's major illnesses opened a new children's leukemia wing on April 15th. Samuel H. Gelter, executive vice president of the medical center, announced the completion of the thirty-two crib unit last week and told too of a unique project just developed at the City of Hope. Called the "Mother Participation Plan," it enables the mothers of patients to stay on the hospital grounds and receive free room and board. At the City of Hope Hospital, located in Duarte, patients from all over

"TOP OF THE HILL" GETS A NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

NEWEST BUSINESS at the "top of the hill" is the Daly City Drug Co., 6331 Mission street, which is owned and managed by Norris Gregory and Tom Bournellis. The building is completely remodeled and equipped with modern display and drug equipment. Some of the features are a complete prescription department, cosmetic department, and regular sundries and drugs. The drug store will be open every day of the year from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. —THE RECORD Photo the country are treated for Leukemia, cancer, heart maladies, and Hodgkins Disease. Lynn is really taking this project to heart and any of the folks interested may get in touch with her by calling PL. 5-0902 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. and she will be most glad to hear from you and also be able to answer any and all questions you may have.

Just a reminder to the fishing clan of Daly City—get out your fishing gear and check it over to see that it is all in good working order because that Day of Days, the opening of trout season, is only one week away. Don't forget your fishing license if you are over sweet sixteen. You'll need a permit to fish in Lake Merced, the lake at Daly City's front door, where the finny tribe are awaiting that feast of Velveta cheese. It sounds "fishy," neighbors, but they really do use Velveta cheese as bait to catch those beautiful rainbow trout. Wonder what they'll be using next! Probably "Sugar Jets"—they look just like pale salmon eggs.

MR. and MRS. JAMES V. KELL of Niantic avenue were hosts at a surprise anniversary party last week in honor of MR. and MRS. JOHN SORENSON who celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary. The table was decorated in an appropriate motif and the center of the table was taken up by a very beautiful wedding cake. Among those who attended and wished the Sorensens many happy returns were MR. and MRS. WILLIAM BRUSH, MR. and MRS. EDWIN C. COOKE and a very nice evening was had by all. The heartiest of congratulations and best wishes are sent from all the rest of us to the Sorensens who have a host of friends in our town.

They say women can't stick together. Well, this bunch of gals prove differently. The DELTA

CLUB celebrated their 18th anniversary of gals and gab by going out to dinner at the Normandie last week. This club was founded by a bunch of gals who at the time all had little babies and of the nine members there are three of the original members still belonging. Some have moved away and some are working but MRS. MYRTLE KELL, MRS. DOROTHEA BRUSH and MRS. ADELINE CULLUM are still going strong and hope to carry on down through the years. We wish them many more years of fun and happiness together.

Your neighbor and mine, MR. GEORGE AUGUSTIN, whom we have all missed at the crossing of Vista Grande and Mission streets for the past few weeks, is now feeling better. He is at the present time unable to return to work but hopes to be on duty when the new school term resumes in September.

MR. JACK WINTERS was given a surprise party on the event of his 21st birthday the other night. Of course the instigator of this affair was his wife, GRACE, the former Grace Domenici, known to so very many of the Jeff alumni.

MR. and MRS. H. COOPER of Winchester street were the honored guests at a dinner given by their daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. MITCHELL STEWART, on Easter Sunday. The big event was in celebration of their 23rd wedding anniversary and all the Cooper clan plus the Mitchells, too, were there to wish Hoyle and Louise the best of everything not only of the day but in the future, too.

Leaving our town for Amarillo Air Force Base via Los Angeles and Mexico last Monday were

HILLSIDE PTA TO INSTALL NEW OFFICERS WEDNESDAY

Installation of officers for Hillside PTA, scheduled for Wednesday, April 28, the PTA announced this week.

The ceremonies will be held at the Colma school commencing at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Harry Bosberry will be installed as new president.

Monday night outgoing and incoming officers held a dinner at Rickey's Red Chimney. Mrs. Anthony Gaggero, outgoing president, was in charge.

A2/c JIM BRUSH and family—Alleen, David and Smokey. They spent a nice ten days here visiting and being visited by many of their friends. It is wonderful to have them come home but, oh, how hard it is to see them go away again. One thing we do know is that the day will come when all the boys will be home—not for just a visit but to stay for good.

Well, neighbors, this is the end of a very long column. See you again next Friday. Until then the phone is still PL. 5-6482 and I'll be listening for you. 'Bye now.

Here's how you can actually see why Sunbeam
stays fresh longer

It's the "thru-holes" in a slice of bread that steal away precious freshness and flavor. Sunbeam tastes so fresh... so delicious... because Sunbeam's advanced baking process keeps "thru-holes" down to a minimum. Test this for yourself. Look at a Sunbeam slice through a magnifying glass, or hold up to light. See how many—if any—slice-penetrating "thru-holes" you see. Then taste Sunbeam! Enjoy Sunbeam's fresh, flavorful goodness. Student Of Hebrew To Talk At Grace

The Rev. Roland Tapp, teaching student of Hebrew and Greek at the San Francisco Theological seminary at San Anselmo, will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service at Grace Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Sunday school will convene as usual at 9:45 a.m.

SURPRISE FOR COLMA WOMAN; BABY DAUGHTER

A 27-year-old Colma woman who said she "didn't have the slightest idea" she was expecting, gave birth to a baby girl at Junipero Serra hospital Saturday with a timely assist from the Broadmoor police department.

It was believed to have been the first time a baby had been delivered at the local hospital for more than 10 years in the hospital's 15-year existence.

Broadmoor officer Gale Galusha was summoned at 3:30 p.m. Saturday by Norma Ainsworth, who lives at 1596 Annie street with Dorothy Madison.

She said Mrs. Madison was suffering severe pains in her side and couldn't get to her feet.

Galusha, on arriving at the scene, diagnosed her trouble, and quickly called Chief Ray Savage, who arrived in the ambulance. Twenty minutes later, 3:50 p.m., at the hospital the baby was delivered, while Savage was still in the other room signing Mrs. Madison's name to the hospital register.

Nurse Barbara Tubbs performed the actual delivery, while Savage and Galusha assisted the post-natal operation.

Later the woman was transferred to Community hospital in San Mateo.

The birth established another first, in that it was the first time the Broadmoor police had been initiated into the obstetrics field. Mrs. Madison expressed surprise after giving birth to the child and said that she had been to a doctor two months ago and he had told her she was not pregnant.

EASTER EGG HUNT DEEMED BEST IN CITY HISTORY

Turnout of 5000 youngsters and 1000 parents combined last Thursday to make the most successful Easter Egg Hunt in the city's history.

A total of 10,000 eggs were ferreted out by the eager small fry during the day-long hunt held in all parts of Daly City.

In all, 269 prizes were awarded to finders of the lucky prize eggs. A single egg remains undiscovered at the Gambetta site in Daly City.

Recreation Director James Mason commended his staff, the local PTA groups, and several Daly City teachers for their help and cooperation in the mammoth hunt. "The hard work of these people was directly responsible for the success of this event," Mason said.

Recreation directors at the Westlake site estimated that over 3000 children, attended the hunt here. Reports from Marchbanks park indicate that more than 1000 youngsters in the two-to-eight years old group participated in the hunt at that location. Gambetta reported 400 in attendance.

At Frankfort Park, directors reported that 1600 attended. High school girls, dressed as Easter Bunnies, proved to be the hit of many of the egg searches. These girls were volunteers from the recreation department's Misbe-Haven Teen club.

Many more children found eggs this year than in the past and the recreation department is currently working on further improving next year's hunt, hoping that all the small youngsters will receive eggs at the next Easter festivities.

HOUSING AUTHORITY PAYS $5019.59 TO JEFF HIGH DISTRICT

The housing authority of San Mateo county paid a total of $5019.59 to the Jefferson High school district in lieu of taxes for

Westlake Branch Post Office Under Consideration

Information that the post office department in Washington, D.C., is currently considering a subdivision station for the Westlake area was confirmed yesterday by John F. Fixa, San Francisco postmaster.

When the final action to establish the branch office of the new Daly City post office will be taken, Fixa said he could not say at the present time.

"Establishment of a new subdivision depends upon the revenue that such a station would net and what the population is in the area. The post office department makes a survey to determine how many stamps the merchants and people in the area buy and when the figure is large enough the department establishes a new branch. I do not know when, but Westlake will eventually get a subdivision and it should be fairly soon," Fixa said.

According to comments by another post office department official the subdivision will be a carrier and finance station and will completely replace the present limited service station in the area.

Midway Village housing project, according to announcement made this week.

Out of the money paid to the district, $627.45 was for bonds outstanding by the school district.

In all, the housing authority paid out $21,839.41 to various taxing districts in San Mateo county.

Public Is Invited To Print Show

The general public has been invited to be the judge of the Westlake Camera club's first print exhibition.

The showing of photographic prints will be held on Saturday afternoon, May 8, and will be held outside, in the center mall of the Westlake Shopping Center. It is expected that about 100 prints will be displayed. There will be no admission charge.

A feature of the photographic presentation will be the request that viewers judge the prints for their merit, so that the top winners can be named by popular selection. Judging ballots will be passed out to visitors of the show.

Tough San Mateo Nine Drops Jefferson, 7 to 1

BEARCATS STIFLE INDIAN HITTING

Jefferson High school's varsity diamondmen threw two chucks at San Mateo Tuesday but neither could stop the hitting onslaught, as the Mateans bested the local club, 7 to 1, in the Jeffs fourth PAL start.

The Daly City club now have a 2-2 record in league competition. They will attempt to make a mathematical improvement on this mark today (Friday) when they meet arch-rival South San Francisco on the local diamond at 3:15 p.m. The Warriors have proved far from a powerhouse thus far, dropping a 13-2 encounter to Capuchino Tuesday.

Coach Lou Martin will probably start Lowell Creighton on the mound.

Never In Contest

In Tuesday's setback, the Jeffs were never in the contest against the smooth San Mateo squad, with the exception of the first inning, when they scored their lone run. Third sacker Al Figone, who led the Jefferson hitting attack with two for three, was responsible for the tally in the initial frame when he singled in Leo Villar from second.

The Bearcats retaliated in their half of the first, scoring one run, and they continued the scoring pressure by registering one in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth and two in the sixth frames.

The Indian baseball squad lost two of their top regulars Sunday because the players violated Peninsula Athletic league rulings against competing in outside leagues.

Ray Rosa, veteran short stop, and Dan Bertelli, promising hurler, were removed from the team roster this week by Coach Lou Martin, who termed the action "disciplinary."

The two athletes had played ball last weekend for a local amateur club, Sarto A.C.

During regular season play, the PAL prohibits students from competing in any other circuits.

A similar ruling in the Skyline Conference (college) was responsible for the recent ouster of Larry Blanchard, ex-Jeff athlete, from the San Mateo Junior college basketball team.

Ironically, it was the Sarto A.C. club that Blanchard had played for when he was dumped from the JC squad.

Delbon was starting pitcher for the locals, but was practically knocked-out of the park, giving up seven hits in four innings. Creighton was sent in as a replacement and retired the last man in that inning via the strike-out route.

He put down the side again in the fifth, but received rough treatment in the sixth canto when the Mateans put a double and a home run back to back to send in two counters.

Four earned runs were charged against Delbon, while two went against Creighton.

Creighton allowed only the two hits in the sixth, maintaining control in the other sessions.

Delbon had a particularly bad time in the third inning, when he chucked two consecutive wild pitches, allowing a man originally on second base to advance for a score.

Jeff Hitting Weak

The Indians hitting was dismal, as they netted only three for the day, Figone getting the two and Villar one.

The San Mateo gang gave the local club a couple of scoring opportunities, once in the fourth and another time in the sixth inning. Jeff first baseman Bob Bailey, with two men on base in the fourth, went down for the three-strike count to nullify any threat of a rally in that inning. Then, in the sixth, Figone singled, but was forced out at second after an infield ball by Gustin. Gustin reached base safely but was later whiffed out in a base-stealing attempt.

Cap Next Week

After today's go against South City, the Jefferson club will face Burlingame Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. at the Panther diamond. The Daly City nine defeated Burlingame easily in their first encounter, winning 9 to 1. The following Friday the locals will take on league-leading Capuchino at the Millbrae field.

Mateo JC Returns To Athletic Wars

With Easter vacation a thing of the past, College of San Mateo returns to the athletic wars with all the teams busy this week.

While the tennis men are busy with practice matches, the track team will host City College of San Francisco in San Mateo this Friday afternoon in the lone home meet for the Mateans. At the same time the San Mateo golfers will trek to San Francisco to play the CCSF rivals. Both events are conference tilts.

The baseball team is busy this week with four practice games as no conference foes are to be played until San Mateo hosts West Contra Costa April 27. Perhaps the high-

LIST OF STARS GROWS FOR MERCED OPEN TOURNEY; GENE LITTLER ENTRY

The list of big-name golf stars for the coming $10,000 San Francisco Open Invitational golf tournament, scheduled April 30, May 1-2 at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club in Daly City is growing by leaps and bounds.

Bob Cardinal, general chairman of the S. F. Jr. Chamber of Commerce event, has received the entry of Gene Littler, latest in a sudden surge of entries. Littler is ranked as one of golf's greatest future stars, and every golf pro in the nation has predicted a great future for him.

Other big-name stars who have entered within the past few days are Perk Oliver, the colorful gent who took a horrendous "16" at Pebble Beach during the 1954 Bing Crosby tournament; Shelley Mayfield, Dave Douglas, and several others. Cary Middlecoff, Doug Ford, Ken Venturi, Harvie Ward, Bob Toski, and Al Bessenlink have all entered the event.

Said Cardinal, upon his return from the Masters: "The field is getting bigger and better every day. I contacted a lot of players at the Masters, and many of them assured me they would be coming out here for our tournament. They all said they would let me know within a week. I know we'll have more big name stars, and will have an event all of Northern California will be proud of."

The tournament is scheduled April 30, May 1-2, at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club.

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, who had already turned down a bid to play in the coming $10,000 San Francisco Open Invitational golf tournament, apparently succumbed to the persuasive powers of Cardinal and the S. F. Junior Chamber of Commerce, and has wired his entry to the tournament.

Harrison, one of the most colorful golfers on the pro circuit, and winner of the 1954 Bing Crosby tournament at Monterey, had already said "no" to the tournament. Then last week Cardinal had a long chat with Harrison at the Masters tournament, and apparently did some pretty good talking.

The result - Harrison's entry, and it's a big one for the coming tournament. Harrison is one of the top golfers among the pros, and won a number of major tournaments last year.

So the fruits of Cardinal's trip to Augusta are coming through - first, it was Gene Littler; then Bobby Rosburg; and now "Dutch" Harrison.

Cardinal said he hoped to hear from other top pros within a day or so, and was still trying to lure Slammin' Sammy Snead to the tournament. Cardinal talked with Snead at the Masters, and now has his fingers crossed.

The tournament is scheduled April 30, May 1-2, at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club.

JEFF LINKSMEN WIN OVER ATHERTON TEAM

Led by John Geertsen, who fired a 70, Jefferson High school's golf team maintained their undefeated streak in Peninsula Athletic league golf Tuesday by up-ending Menlo-Atherton, 25 1/2 to 12.

Geertsen's efforts was two under par for the Merced links and was his best effort to date on that course. Had he not bogeyed the sixteenth hole, he would have had a 69, which few pros can claim for the local 18.

Charles Blackburn shot a 78 for runner-up, while Jim Courts and Gary Gali had 85 and 84, respectively.

It marked the fourth straight league win for the Jeff linksmen, who have only lost one match in the past two years, the lone defeat coming two weeks ago at the hands of Washington of San Francisco. Coach Mike Orlich's club swingers also fared fairly well in last week's Northern California Junior Golf Tournament.

Bill Pushman topped the field in the 11th flight, while Brian Van Paul won the fifth flight. Pushman won out over Jerry Smith of Jefferson to win in his class.

Blackburn, who qualified the first day in the championship flight, defeated a heavy favorite in his first go, but lost to John Lucetti in the afternoon session.

Galli was dropped out of the third flight by teammate Courts. Aldo Bacigalupi went to the semi-finals in the fourth group, but was downed by another Jeff golfer, Dick Stokely.

In the ninth flight, Richard Gonzales was beaten by Jerry Caldwell of San Jose, another pre-tourney favorite.

TEN MORE PROS ADD NAMES TO TOP GOLF STARS

Ten more professional golf stars have added their names to the list of stars who will compete in the $10,000 San Francisco Open Invitational golf tournament, scheduled April 30, May 1-2, at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club.

Bob Cardinal, general chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce event, said the following players have sent in their entries:

Walter Burkemo, present PGA champion.

Fred Wampler, winner of the Los Angeles Open.

Lawson Little, well-known in San Francisco.

Mary Furgol, the center of the big rhubarb in North Carolina a few weeks ago, plus Art Will, who has made more than 30 holes in one; Ted Kroll, Dick Mayer, Jimmy Clark, Bud Holscher, and Garner Dickinson. Dickinson is Ben Hogan's assistant at Palm Springs, and Hogan claims he is one of the coming greats of golf.

Cardinal also said that Harry Bassler, Smiley Quick, and many others will come up from Los Angeles to play in the 54-hole amateur event.

SARTO MIDGETS ENTER CYO

Winding up in second spot in the recently finished Midget Rec league, Sarto Midgets will enter the CYO league Saturday, playing their first game at 10 a.m. against Holy Angels.

The local club will compete under the name of OLPH in the coming league play. Lowell Creighton, who has given much time to developing the club, will be manager for the coming campaign.

The team is also coached by Creighton, assisted by Harry Krohn. Both say the club will give a fair accounting of themselves in the CYO circuit.

Following is the schedule for the midgets:

May 1-Epiphany A's, Marchbanks, 10 a.m.

May 8-St. John, Marchbanks, 10 a.m.

May 15-St. Elizabeth, Marchbanks, 10 a.m.

May 22-St. Michaels, Ocean View playground, 10 a.m.

Thur Winner As Keg League Closes

An unexpected battle for second place in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league arose Tuesday night in the final night of competition at the Brentwood alleys.

Thur Meat Co., as scheduled, topped first place, winding up with 53 wins, 37 losses, but runner-up in the league wasn't decided until a later hour.

Carlos Pizzeria had held second place with a 49 1/2-37 1/2 mark, while Kennedy Electric was just behind with 49-38. The pizza gang won

2 1/2 from Homes by Sterling Tuesday, while Kennedy pulled up even by throttling league winner Thur for a triple.

After the regular competition, the two teams rolled for second place which, incidentally carries an added bonus of $37.50, and Carlos topped the last two games to win second and the added cash.

Thur will receive $75 for winning the circuit honors.

Next Tuesday night sweepstakes will be held, donated by Brentwood, with $106, to be divided up among top individual bowlers and teams. In addition, each team will get $2.35 per game won all season.

Winning high individual game was Bacci Rochetta of the Orphans with a 219. Mike Orlich was runner-up, rolling a 214.

Taking high team game was Vince and Fred with a 910, while Jack's Inn claimed high team series with 2587.

The Parks News From

Thanks to the various city departments, social and civic groups, and to the individual efforts of the residents of Westlake, our Easter Egg hunt on Thursday can truthfully be called a success. With the turnout of both participating youngsters and anticipating parents far exceeding the estimated number expected, the first Easter egg hunt here at the Westlake Elementary school playground is certain to become an annual event.

The play area in the lower section of the playground was staked and roped off for the youngsters, two to five years of age. The baseball field in the upper section was prepared in a similar manner for the exclusive use of those in the six to eight year old bracket. The hunt started promptly at ten o'clock in the morning with an estimated twenty-five hundred eager and excited youngsters participating. While it was a joy watching the scramble for hidden eggs, it was a greater enjoyment to see the parents of these youngsters fulfill their needs by accompanying them to the hunt. I would venture to say that if an accurate count of these parents could have been taken the number would have pushed or exceeded five to six hundred adults. The tangible results of the parent-child cooperation was visible on every happy face but the intangible joys and inner excitement which I am sure prevailed was a far greater contribution.

Among the thousands of eggs distributed there were fifty prize eggs hidden. For those lucky youngsters finding these eggs an Easter gift was waiting at the prize booth and was for the most part given to the child by one of our Easter bunnies.

To these parents and their children, Mrs. Rowe and her PTA members who did a marvelous job, the Westlake girls club, including Barbara Lund, Reggy Johnson, Arlene Callan, Lynette Kerr, Georgia Dupper, Lynn Hutchison, Helen Magrath and Marsha Anderson, Carol Bertelli, our Easter Bunny, the Daly City fire department which was represented by Edwin (V) (45) Cooke, the Jefferson Elementary unified district, the Daly City recreation department in the persons of Jim Mason, Ed Mosconi, and Dick Milkovitch (who was here at 6 a.m. setting up the prize booth and the P. A. system). I wish to extend my many thanks. I hope that their Easter was as happy as they in turn made a happy Easter for the children of Westlake.
